Brief explanation on the ISH Group background, including the following

UD Samin is an independent oil palm smallholder group located in Batu Godang Village, Angkola Sangkunar Sub-district, South Tapanuli Regency, North Sumatra Province, Indonesia. The group consists of 429 smallholder farmers managing a total plantation area of 664.59 hectares. UD Samin is committed to implementing sustainable oil palm cultivation practices.

To improve productivity, enhance members' livelihoods, and strengthen access to sustainable markets, UD Samin actively participates in various farmer capacity-building programs, including training on Good Agricultural Practices (GAP), environmental management, occupational health and safety, and compliance with sustainability standards. The group is also committed to complying with applicable laws and regulations while supporting environmental protection and social responsibility principles.

Through continuous assistance and capacity development, UD Samin strives to strengthen its organizational governance, improve plantation productivity, and ensure that oil palm cultivation is managed responsibly in accordance with applicable sustainability principles and criteria.
