TRAINING; -S

Scheduled implementation of a program of various exercises to train skills and increase performance.

Take advantage of fresh expertise to give you a competitive advantage.

Further training in keeping with technical progress.

Technical topics and applications are developing so rapidly that it is difficult for textbooks to keep up. To qualify for technical fields of competence, it is better to rely on dynamic sources. TÜV Rheinland Academy's seminars always provide up-to-date specialist knowledge. Our lecturers come from real-life practice – they apply innovations and best practices that are important for specialists and managers in companies.

FOR SKILLED WORKERS

Nothing is more constant than change and because of that lifelong learning becomes a constant as well. It is particularly important for skilled workers to keep up with technical developments and to further develop the appropriate skills in good time. In the seminars of TÜV Rheinland Academy, you receive well-founded further training in the specialist areas of your choice with a high degree of topicality.

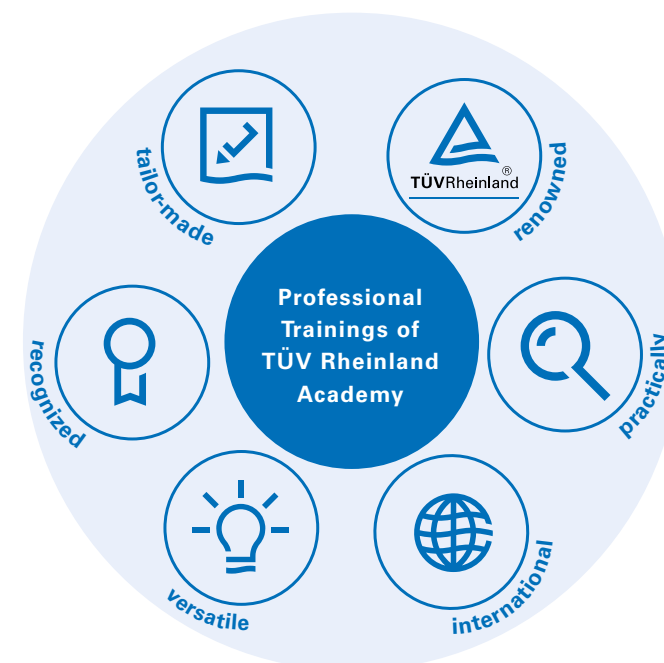

FOR MANAGERS

Management positions often go hand in hand with professional and disciplinary responsibility. We provide management staff with targeted support in establishing and developing management expertise and methodological skills. Whether, for example, quality management, sustainability issues, governance or compliance, we strengthen your skills on the basis of the currently valid standards.

FOR COMPANIES

Competences are the fundament for companies' ability to act. With TÜV Rheinland Academy, HR managers have the convenient choice of how to strengthen and expand their knowledge base: The open seminars at our Academy locations are suitable for the further training of individual employees in various topics. Our in-house seminars at your location are predestined for the compact further training of many employees on one topic.

YOUR BENEFITS AT A GLANCE

Open seminars for your personal further training.

Lively formats to provide a decisive advantage in terms of knowledge.

Take advantage of our experience with current and future-oriented practices to build up your individual skills: TÜV Rheinland Academy's open seminars lead in a lively and convincing manner to the technical and professional skills that set the tone in the modern world of work. Through our diverse selection of formats, topics and dates, each participant determines his or her own learning pace.

YOUR BENEFITS

As a participant in our face-to-face and digital formats, you will receive concrete application examples as well as a tangible set of measures and methods for structuring and mastering your tasks. In addition, you will take various solution approaches with you into practice. As a specialist or manager, you can incorporate new developments at an early stage and act with legal certainty.

OUR COURSE CONTENT 2.0

Take advantage of our alternative to face-to-face seminars and complete your further training on a computer or tablet. We strengthen your skills at the location of your choice through live online training, e-learning courses or mobile learning applications.
