INITIAL SITUATION AND REQUIREMENTS

In conjunction with local business associations, TÜV Rheinland Academy is developing a training concept for technical professions in Tunisia. The tasks on site include a needs analysis, the adaptation of existing programs, curriculum design, and instructor training. Based on initial concepts and experience, a business model is being developed to enable the operation of a comparable training facility.

SOLUTIONS, RESULTS

Following the designing of the training concept and curricula, TÜV Rheinland Academy defines the requirements for instructors, infrastructures, and equipment. Instructors on site are qualified within two years using a train-the-trainer concept. TÜV Rheinland Academy also offers management and marketing consulting and supervises the validation of the pedagogical approach.

YOUR BENEFITS

Training programs at TÜV Rheinland Academy in the field of Technical and Vocational Education and Training (TVET) close the technical education gap between state school-leaving or higher education qualifications and the professional requirements of industry. As an internationally experienced partner in the development of technical skills, TÜV Rheinland Academy is precisely the right solution provider. By implementing the dual system based on the German model, we ensure that education and professional life work hand in hand at local vocational schools. In this way, existing and new employees grow into specialized tasks in a
