

BUREAU OF INDIAN STANDARDS
BIS CERTIFICATION FOR SAFETY OF TOYS

Safety of Toys as per has been brought under compulsory BIS certification with effect from 01/09/2020 as per Toys (Quality Control) Order, 2020 issued by DPIIT, Ministry of Commerce and Industry.

In pursuance of the above Order, BIS has initiated the process of grant licence to manufacturers of toys for use of BIS Standard Mark as per Scheme I of Schedule II of the BIS (Conformity Assessment) Regulations, 2018.

Those domestic toy manufacturers who intend to apply for a BIS licence may do so online from BIS website www.bis.gov.in by following the path [Conformity Assessment>Product Certification>Apply Online] or by clicking here. (Please register yourself on the portal before proceeding further)

Foreign Manufacturers who intend to apply for a BIS licence may follow the process of applying for a BIS licence under the Foreign Manufacturers Certification Scheme which is available on BIS website www.bis.gov.in by following the path [Conformity Assessment>FMCS]

For the purpose of BIS certification, toys have been classified into following 2 types:

S. No.	Type	Applicable Primary Standard
1	Non Electric Toys (these are ordinary toys such as rattles, dolls, puzzles, etc. which do not have any function dependent on electricity)	IS 9873 (Part 1):2019
2	Electric Toys (these are toys which have at least one function dependent on electricity)	IS 15644:2006

Manufacturers while applying for a licence, may choose one of the above applicable primary standards based on the type of toy for which licence is required. If licence is required for more than one type of toy, separate applications shall be made for each type. (However, samples shall be tested by BIS for conformity to the primary standard and the secondary standards which are applicable i.e. IS 9873 parts 2,3,4,7, and 9 etc.)

Applications are to be made only under Option 1 or Normal procedure.
